The house of the future

Will the house of the future be different from our houses of today? Experts say it will.

Most people will use solar power to heat their rooms and their water. We won't get our energy from nuclear power stations. Energy will be made of regenerative resources like wind or water. You will switch-on your stove thirty minutes before returning home by mobile phone and your meal will be ready just in time.

If there is no milk, no butter or no Coke in your fridge, the fridge will automatically send a message to your supermarket. Your food will be delivered to your home.

And the money for all this? Well, that's something that won't change: you will have to earn it yourself!
